Service Description: The client was looking for a unified access control and video surveillance platform to manage their 400 plus video surveillance system and 800 access control points. During the survey it was discovered that all the access control panels are mercury based and will allow for an easy transition to a single platform. In addition, the current video system has features that meet the client’s requirements they just needed to be implemented. A plan was developed, and priorities have been put in place to help them reach their goal of a unified platform.
